“People of the Land”

Presenter: Julie Rucker

The mission of the Museum of Indigenous People is to instill understanding and respect for the indigenous cultures of the Southwest. Julie Rucker, the assistant director of the Museum, will tell us about the cultures of the peoples who populated our area in the past and the peoples who populate our area today, as well as the reasons so many native peoples have continued to come to our area.

Ms. Rucker has a Master of Arts in Museum Management and has studied the history of the indigenous peoples of our area. She is deeply involved in preserving the history of our area and the peoples that have lived here. She has been involved in the recent rehabilitation of the Museum and Pueblo buildings as well as the native garden.

Prescott Corral News & Announcements

A Message from Our Sheriff

Greetings,

We have a very special treat in May. We will be meeting at the Museum of Indigenous People (147 N. Arizona Avenue). Our meeting schedule will be the same as usual. You will arrive at the Museum at 5:00pm and walk through the new native garden, on the south side of the Museum entrance. Then, go to the Pueblo building to check-in and find your seat. At that point, you may decide to stay in the Pueblo or tour the Museum. The meeting will begin promptly at 6:00, followed by dinner provided by Greenway Catering, El Gato Azul.

Our speaker will be Julie Rucker, assistant director of the Museum. Her topic will be "People of the Land". I am very grateful that Julie is available to talk about the peoples that were here long ago and those that are here today. There is so much for us to learn.

We are so appreciative to be able to come to this newly rehabilitated Museum and Pueblo buildings and native garden, such a beautiful contribution to our community.

*A few details about our meeting. There is no bar service at the Museum, so we encourage you to bring your own beverages. Glasses, ice and a corkscrew will be available. Water and coffee will be provided.

If you need special parking, please call Sheriff Penny.

*We must give our May dinner meal count to Greenway Catering by Friday, April 18th. Because of the mail situation in Prescott, you MUST mail your reservation for the May dinner by April 11th for it to arrive on time.

In June, June!! Can you believe the year will be half gone? In June, we will hear about our wonderful rodeo, its history, and the amazing women who have participated.
